First Reading	Acts	2:14, 22-23
Psalms	"Lord, you will show us the path of life"
Second Reading	1 Peter	1:17-21
Gospel:	Luke	24:13-35

Last week we heard Jesus send the disciples as the Father had sent him. This week we see some of what it means to be sent. After the disciples on the road to Emmaus recognize Jesus, they run back and give testimony. The entire first reading from the Acts of the Apostles is Peter giving testimony to the risen Christ. Let us all listen to the readings for clues about how we too are called to give testimony to our faith.

A Note From The Pastor ....

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY

Today, the Church all over the world celebrates the Divine Mercy Sunday. The Catholic Church is very rich with many devotions and of all of these, one of the growing and popular devotions is the Divine Mercy. What is its origin in the Church?

Mercy is God's love in creating us in His own image, in redeeming us with the blood of His son and in sanctifying us with His Holy Spirit. Jesus depicted for all time the characteristic features of the divine mercy. He proclaimed the Gospel of infinite mercy to sinners, which brings them forgiveness. The healing of the paralytic, the parable of the prodigal son and every miracle that Jesus performed show that His mercy is infinite. The essential condition for entering the Kingdom of Heaven is to be merciful as the heavenly Father is. The devotion to the Divine Mercy commenced with the mission entrusted to Saint Faustina (Helen Kowalska) who was born on August 25, 1905 in Poland. Jesus asked Sister to pray and to work to establish a Feast of the Divine Mercy on the Sunday after Easter. This will be a day of total forgiveness of sins for those who approach the Eucharist and the Sacrament of Reconciliation. It would be an annual celebration like the Day of Atonement. All sins and punishment would be washed away in His infinite mercy.

Jesus asked that Sister Faustina have an image painted according to the pattern she saw and stated that this would be a vessel to draw mercy from the infinite ocean of His mercy. The image is of Jesus coming toward us with His right hand raised in blessing and His left hand touching His garment at the bosom in the area of the heart where great rays of light shine forth, one red and the other pale. He is dressed in a white garment and is radiant with light.

This icon presents three scenes from Scripture. The obvious scene is that of Easter Sunday and Jesus appeared in the Upper Room showing His wounds, giving to His apostles the authority which He received, breathing on them the Holy Spirit for the forgiveness of sins. The second scene is Calvary. From His pierced side, blood and water flow out as a fount of mercy. Third scene is Jesus as the Eternal High Priest, dressed in the white linen of the Priest. Jesus, our High Priest, was offered once to take away the sins of many. He will appear a second time to bring salvation to those who await him. He will come to bring the culmination of mercy to those who await Him.
