12th Sunday in Ordinary Time June 21, 2015

First Reading:	Job	38:8-11
Psalm 107	"Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting".
Second Reading:	2 Corinthians	5:14-17
Gospel:	Mark	4:35-41

In the Gospel Jesus is shown to have the same authority over the powers of nature that we see attributed to God in the first reading. Indeed, the disciples are filled with wonder and awe. What can we say about the authority that Jesus possesses over our world today and over our own lives? What might this say about our faith in him?

A Note From Father Victor ....

June 14, 2015

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

On this eleventh Sunday in ordinary time we are invited to reflect and be affirmed of the “power of our God”. Ever since we were young we were told that the power of God goes far beyond the power of man. It is at the heart of the scripture readings this Sunday. To reflect and to celebrate this reality of our God empowers us and gives us hope despite many challenging times in our life.

The Old Testament tells us so many stories about how God manifested his power for his people Israel. It is ever marked in their stories and in their history as a nation. Particularly, the first reading tells us about how the shoot of cedar (Israel) was transplanted from the place of exile back to its home place. By the power of God, it happened.

The gospel passage tells us parables about the kingdom of God. By the power of God it will grow, not as we want it to be, but in God’s own time and ways. It will continue to burst forth despite unseemingly discouraging situations. The powerful action of God’s hand will work in his church. He promised it and knowing that he is an ever faithful God, he will fulfill it. Jesus made it clear to those who heard him then – and us – that the entire process of building the Kingdom among men, in history, is especially God’s work. It began just like a mustard seed and will grow to become a place of refuge for so many people of different times, ages, orientations and races.

In our parish community we are always challenged and at times tempted to be “discouraged”. But as we look at the history about our God, ever faithful and ever present, we are always given the hope that we will overcome our trials. Our God is a mighty God! Let us continue to face our challenges, do our best and trust in the power of God!
